

Summer is here and with it, its share of abandoned packaging in nature.

Summer is synonymous of holidays, picnics, festivities of all kinds. It is important to continue to reduce our environmental footprint by avoiding unique packaging and sorting our waste even outside of our home.

Festival organizers have understood this and are emphasizing sorting awareness (CITEO article in french).

ALL4PACK Emballage Paris wishes you a great summer and will meet you in November to take part in this year's main professional event and find concrete solutions to environmental issues related to packaging.

Do not forget you can already download your free access badge
